Splash! I had just finished bugy boarding in Hawaii. When I got back to shore there was something blue on my arm. It was a small jellyfish!
I screamed when I felt a sharp pain. My dad asked "what happened?" He looked at my arm and saw the jelly fish that had stung me.
Dad grabbed the jellyfish and threw it back into the ^{ocean} ~~ocean~~. Tears were rolling down on my face. My dad took me to the ^{house} ~~house~~ right away and put me in the shower. He put cooking oil and shaving cream on my arm ^{and} quickly scraped it off.
Who knew cooking oil and shaving cream could heal a jelly fish sting. It's a good thing my dad is so smart!

The score was 3-0 with 4 minutes to play. It was fourth down and I wanted to quit. Just then, Ty slapped my helmet and shouted "I know what to do!" In the huddle Ty said, "I'll take a hand off but then throw it to you." As I raced toward the end zone I heard the crowd ^{cheering}. At the last minute I turned around and saw the ball zooming toward me. The ball was high and I could tell it would be a tough reception. I felt the ball graze ~~the ball go~~ the tips of my fingers but it slipped right through my hands. Unbelievable, now the other team ^{got} ~~gets~~ the ball! Their QB threw the ball towards the guy I was covering. I turned quickly and saw the ball right ~~by~~ above my head...
Interception! We won! I'll never forget that catch!
