Important:

- Students schedules (period and teacher) are accurate in in Home Access Center or Gradebook, but it may appear differently in Canvas. For example, a block course will appear twice in Gradebook, but only once in Canvas.
- What this means for students when looking at class titles on their Canvas dashboard
 - o A student may see class period (1st, 2nd etc) in a title that is different than their schedule
 - o A student may see a different level of a course (Level 1 instead of Level 2) that is appears on their schedule.

As long as students check Gradebook or Home Access Center for the time and course title – in Canvas you only need to find your teacher’s course.

Once you select the Teacher's "card" – you will arrive on the teacher's class page.

Each teacher's page will be visually unique but will include access to the following information:

- Teacher introduction and class overview
- A daily check-in spot and schedule including how to access Zoom live sessions
- Activities and core content
- Information and passwords needed for any instructional tools used by the teacher
- Information specific for parents
- Tech and Canvas Help

At the bottom of the main content area is a row of five circular buttons containing the letters 'M', 'T', 'W', 'TH', and 'F' in orange, representing the days of the week.
