

February 2, 2026

We acknowledge the original inhabitants of this area, the sduhubš* people, and their successors, the Tulalip Tribes. Since time immemorial, they have hunted, fished, gathered on, and taken care of these lands and waters. We respect their sovereignty, their right to self-determination, and honor their sacred spiritual connection with the land and water. In Everett Public Schools, we strive to create equitable outcomes and build a culture of inclusive belonging for all students, teachers, staff, and community.

- During the month of February we celebrate Black history month, we highlight the resilience, brilliance, and impact of African Americans who changed our country and continue to influence our world today. From groundbreaking inventors and artists to civil rights leaders and young activists, history is filled with stories of courage and excellence. Today we celebrate Katherine Johnson, who was known as the "human computer". Her story was told in the film Hidden Figures; she was the NASA mathematician whose calculations helped send astronauts into space. Her brilliance and determination broke barriers in both science and civil rights. Her story shows that excellence and perseverance can open doors to the stars.
