

Good morning, today is Monday, January 2nd, 2018

Welcome back, we are glad to see you for a terrific New Year.

A reminder that the Reflections Celebration and awards is January 3rd at 5:30pm at the CRC building.

Please make sure to turn in your Books over Break forms to your ELA teacher today. Also, please swing by the library to return the books that you read over break. All books that were checked out in December are now due. Thanks for helping to return library materials on time!

Thank you Gateway, remember to guard your character!
