

Good morning Gateway,

Here is our news for Thursday, October 11th

In Fundraising news!! Tomorrow is the last day to turn in fundraising packets!! This is your last night to sell online and in person. We are close to our goal- so sell...sell...sell!!

The Yearbook Club is pleased to announce that this year's theme is BEHIND THE SCENES. Now that the theme has been decided, it's time for you to create a cover for the yearbook. The cover contest entry forms are on the wall by the main office. Have your cover to Mrs. Stoskopf (room 219) no later than Tuesday, October 23rd. Good luck!

Tomorrow please remember to wear pink for Breast cancer awareness month.

The student store will also be open tomorrow at lunch.

One of the founding fathers of the United States of America and a renowned inventor, Benjamin Franklin ended his formal education at only 10 years old. His parents could only afford to educate him until that point. Fueled by determination, Benjamin educated himself through reading books at the library. Eventually, he invented the lightning rod, bifocal glasses and founded one of the greatest nations in the history of the world.

We owe so many great inventions to him thank you Ben Franklin for never giving up.
