

Good morning Gateway,

Here's our news for Thursday, Nov. 7th

Bring your lunch and join us in the library today and tomorrow to celebrate Diwali. Create and color rangoli, the colorful design patterns that bring good luck.

Starting Tuesday, anyone staying afterschool for an activity will need to either take the Activity Bus home or get picked up. For your safety, no one will be allowed to walk home since we are now on Daylight Savings Time. Please advise your parents.

Please make sure you put all backpacks including string backs in your locker in the morning. Students may not carry string backs to classes. The only exception is when you are bring your PE clothes to and from PE. You should not have a string back in any other class. Also, please remember that bandanas are also not allowed as they are a violation of our dress code.

Students, do you wear a smart watch to school? Smart watches fall under our electronic device and cell phone policy. If you wear a smart watch, please make sure to turn it off and place it in your locker at the beginning of the day. Thank you for helping us with this policy. This week, your teachers will remind you to put your smart watch away and we will start writing infractions next week.

Reflections Art entries due tomorrow. They can be turned in at the front desk or to Mrs. Hines in the art room.

Remember Gateway, guard your character!
