

Good morning, today is Monday, May 21st

Our spirit week is on! Today is crazy sock day. Remember tomorrow is Neon Day, so wear your brightest colors . You can also give others a bright future by remembering to check your closets and donate gently used clothes for the Clothes for Kids organization. They help kids and teens in our area have clothes when there is a financial hardship. Start planning for Wednesday character day too!

Gateway is honored to welcome author, innovator, engineer, animal rights activist, and autism awareness champion, Dr. Temple Grandin on June 1st. You may pick up a book order form in the library to receive an autographed copy. Her newest book is, Calling all Minds, How to Think and Create Like an Inventor.

Interested in learning some awesome volleyball skills and having a ton of fun? Come join the Jackson High School volleyball team and coaches for volleyball camp June 18-20! Flyers are at front desk and on PeachJar on our school website. See you there!!!

Applications for next year's Pride Club President and Pride Club advisors are in the Guardian Kiosk on the wall between the front office and counseling center. If you are interested, pick up an application and return it to the counseling Center by Friday May 25th. You can talk to Mr. Schilaty if you have any questions about the Pride club leadership opportunities.

Please stand for the pledge of allegiance.

Thank you Gateway, remember to guard your character.
