Catherine Phan is Senior at Henry M. Jackson High School and is a Running Start student at Everett Community College. She is adaptable and quick learning, earning a 3.99 GPA while taking challenging courses. Catherine expects to graduate in the top 10 percent of her class. Catherine has been a constant presence in her community, volunteering at various non-profit organizations. In addition to accumulating over 100 volunteer hours per year, she assumes active leadership roles. For example, Catherine was selected as the Key Club Web Master for both her Junior and Senior years. This critical position disseminates information and social media posts to Key Club's 200+ members, accumulating over 2700 volunteer hours. Catherine believes community service is crucial and routinely does her part. She uses community service as a means to develop and grow as a person while contributing whatever she can. Catherine hopes to pursue a degree in medicine.
