

Sarah Trinh won first place for her Nutrition and Wellness project at the FCCLA state competition. She will be representing Washington at the national competition in June.

Sarah put together a great project during this challenging time. She deserves many accolades for her hard work and dedication!

The chapter was also recognized for their participation in competitive events, Power of One, and Step 1.

Monica Andersen

Family and Consumer Sciences Teacher
FCCLA Adviser
Henry M. Jackson HS