I am very happy that Rawan Al-Ekaili and Alexander Aris, Spanish 3 students, won third prize in Narrative and Poetry for Speakers of Other Languages in the 23rd Annual “Escribo en Español” Contest sponsored by the Center for Spanish Studies, OSPI, University of Washington, and the Embassy of Spain.

The theme of this year’s contest is: "Con mi computadora, aprendo, me comunico y me divierto.", (With my computer, I learn, communicate, and have fun). There were many prose works and poems entered in this contest statewide and to get two students from our school to win is a big accomplishment.

In this Spanish writing competition, students followed simple guidelines i.e., ideas that are interesting and important, logical organization, creativity, voice, word choice, and sentence fluency.

Congratulations Rawan and Alexander!

Thanks,
