Unit 7 – Moving Through Space

Big Question – What does it take to explore space?

Writing: Narrative, Opinion, and Informational

Science

Land and Water

Big Idea:
Earth materials have unique properties and are part of living and nonliving systems. Humans interact with natural elements to affect changes in the landscape.

Math

Lines, Angles, and Shapes

Step Up to 5th Grade

Social Studies

Students learn about government at the state, local, tribal, and national levels. They consider rights and responsibilities of citizens, rules and laws, the challenges faced by the state, and how citizens can make a difference in addressing these challenges.

Specials:

F.Y.I.

SBA state testing begins Wednesday, May 1st. Students will test every Wednesday for 4 weeks. Please be sure that your child comes to school on time on Wednesdays and does not get checked out early. This is for their benefit - it gives them as much time as they need to complete the test. Make-up days are available if your child is sick or needs more time on a test.

A few hints to help your child during this time. Please be sure that your child goes to bed early Tuesday nights so they can get a full night's rest. A good, healthy breakfast will also help your child do their best on the test; set your alarms to allow for enough time for your child to get a healthy breakfast. Also, be positive and encouraging to your child when the topic of testing comes up. Encourage them to do their best and let them know that you believe in them and are proud of them.

I also wanted to say thank you for signing and returning the Weekly Reflections. I recently changed them and I hope that the changes help you better understand your child's progress in class. Remember, all assignments are considered incomplete until they are 100% correct. Also, the only homework students have is unfinished classwork and reading for 20 minutes. If you notice your child has a lot of incomplete work on their weekly reflection, they have had several days when they should have done homework that week.

Thank you for taking time to read the newsletter. Have a great weekend.
