

World Language Proficiency Assessment Registration Form

Student Name: _____

Student ID#: _____

Language: _____

To earn high school credit for this exam, you must be able to read, write/type, speak, and listen in the language you are requesting. If you are not fluent in any of the content areas, you are not eligible to test.

- ❶ I can READ in the language above YES or NO
- ❷ I can WRITE in the language above YES or NO
- ❸ I can SPEAK the language above YES or NO
- ❹ I can LISTEN and UNDERSTAND the language above YES or NO

Some language exams require written responses be typed using the specific language keyboard:* I can TYPE in the language above YES or NO

I understand that I am able to take this exam at $10 once this school year. Additional attempts in the same language this school year will be at the actual price of the test.

Student Signature: _____

World Language Proficiency Assessment Registration Form

Student Name: _____

Student ID#: _____

Language: _____

To earn high school credit for this exam, you must be able to read, write/type, speak, and listen in the language you are requesting. If you are not fluent in any of the content areas, you are not eligible to test.

- ❶ I can READ in the language above YES or NO
- ❷ I can WRITE in the language above YES or NO
- ❸ I can SPEAK the language above YES or NO
- ❹ I can LISTEN and UNDERSTAND the language above YES or NO

Some language exams require written responses be typed using the specific language keyboard:* I can TYPE in the language above YES or NO

I understand that I am able to take this exam at $10 once this school year. Additional attempts in the same language this school year will be at the actual price of the test.

Student Signature: _____

There are full practice language tests available at <http://bit.ly/2LQDDZT> to help you determine if you are ready to take the World Language proficiency exam.

Below is a practice writing prompt; if you can write a well detailed, two paragraph response in your requested language, then you should consider registering for this exam.

Practice Writing Prompt—you must write in complete sentences and at your highest possible level. Provide all detail requested in the question and enough detail to fully demonstrate your writing skills. Stay on-topic.

You just received an email from your friend. He wrote about his weekend and the things that he and his friends did on Saturday. He concluded his email asking you about the typical things that you and your friends do on the weekend. Write back and describe two of your favorite activities that you do with your friends and family and why you enjoy them so much. Include as many details as you can and write in complete sentences.*

More information at <https://www.everettsd.org/Page/22317>

There are full practice language tests available at <http://bit.ly/2LQDDZT> to help you determine if you are ready to take the World Language proficiency exam.

Below is a practice writing prompt; if you can write a well detailed, two paragraph response in your requested language, then you should consider registering for this exam.

Sample Writing Prompt—you must write in complete sentences and at your highest possible level. Provide all detail requested in the question and enough detail to fully demonstrate your writing skills. Stay on-topic.

You just received an email from your friend. He wrote about his weekend and the things that he and his friends did on Saturday. He concluded his email asking you about the typical things that you and your friends do on the weekend. Write back and describe two of your favorite activities that you do with your friends and family and why you enjoy them so much. Include as many details as you can and write in complete sentences.*

More information at <https://www.everettsd.org/Page/22317>

