

Cause

Effect

A few hours later, they took a sharp right.

Dee gathered pinecones and branches and logs.

Along came a stumbling, bumbling bear.

He simply tried squeezing right under the hitch.

They started to roll down the rock hillside.

The bear was determined to capture his prize.

They decided to camp in the backyard instead.

Missing parts to the Cause and Effect chart

They found a great spot to set up camp for the night.

He pushed up the hitch, which let go with a snap!

Now that the camper and car were unhitched.

The bear pulled the camper right off of the rock.

While they were falling asleep without care

Magee made a campfire and cooked some hot dogs.

The trip wasn't quite like they thought it would be.