Grade 5 Music Scavenger Hunt

Cross off each box that you are able to complete while you are out of school. See how many you can do!

Listen to a song you like and create dance moves for it.	Write a song about your lunch.	Make up a rhythmic ostinato ( a pattern that repeats ) using the names of things in your room.	Read a picture book and make up a song about each main character.	Sing a short song you know 5 times, a little higher each time, then a little lower.
Listen to some music and write a story to go along with it.	Pretend your house is filled with water for 5 minutes. Move accordingly.	Sing 5 songs you remember from when you were little.	Set up 16 toys and see if you can say their names in rhythm.	Read a picture book and make up a song to sing every time you turn the page.
Create a song using things you find around your house.	Listen to a song with your eyes closed. Draw a line on a piece of paper that matches what you hear.	Go outside and see how many ways you can create to move down the sidewalk.	Make a list or playlist of your top 10 favorite songs.	Write down an 8 beat rhythm pattern then make up body percussion for it.
Make a list of 10 ways life would be different if music didn't exist.	Compose a song about how much you miss school.	Listen to a piece of music and illustrate what you hear.	Act out a song you know without singing it. See if someone can guess what song it is.	Sing 3 songs you remember from this school year.
Figure out the longest song you know. Sing it without stopping.	Make a list of 10 places you might hear music other than the radio.	Build an instrument and play a song on it. Look for tutorials online.	Draw a picture of the worst and best things about music.	Create a movement piece using body percussion. Stomps, pats, claps and snaps.
