

Weeks #1-4
#1

ante/fore – before; in front anteroom - a small room located before another, such as a waiting room antecedent - something happening before, ancestor anticipate- look forward to; expect forebrain - the front part of the brain forethought - a consideration or planning beforehand forerunner- a person, sign or warning that something is coming forehand- a stroke in tennis with palm turned forward extra/out - outside or beyond; away, outward extravagant- spending carelessly and lavishly, excessive extracurricular- outside the regular course of study extradite- give up or deliver (a fugitive or prisoner) to another state, nation, or authority for trial or punishment extraordinary- beyond what is ordinary, very unusual outback - the back country of any area outcast - person or animal cast out from home or friends outbound - going away from the area outgrow - get too large for outstretch - extended, stretched outward

#2

dis/mis- opposite of, lack, not, wrong, bad distract-turn aside or draw away discontent-not feeling content, happy, fulfilled disadvantage-lacking advantage; unfavorable condition disarray-lack of order, confusion disapprove-have or express an opinion against disarm-take weapons away from misapply-to use badly, incorrectly or wrongly misgovern-to rule or govern badly misalliance-an improper alliance or association misunderstood-not appreciated or understood misadventure-an unlucky accident, bad luck under/sub=beneath, below underwater-below water underling-a person of lower rank or position underachiever-someone who works below his or her level or ability underclassman-freshman or sophomore undercut-cut under or beneath submarine-a vessel that can be navigated under the water; something living under the surface of the sea, as a plant or an animal submerge-to cover or overflow with water, immerse subtract-to withdraw or take away as a part from the whole anti/de- against, opposite, not, below, opposite of, remove antidote - medicine or remedy that counteracts the effects of a poison antibacterial - counteracting or destroying bacteria antipathy - a strong dislike or feeling against antihero - a main character who has none of the qualities normally expected of a hero antonym - word that means the opposite of another word decapitate - cut the head off demote - reduce in rank deactivate - remove from active service decelerate - slow down devalue - drop the value intra- within, inside intravenous - within a vein, into a vein intrastate - within a state intramuscular - within or into a muscle intramural - carried on by members of the same school, college, etc intrapersonal- taking place within the individual mind or self, thinking about your actions, thoughts, values intravascular- located or occurring in, or administered through a blood vessel.

#3

discipulus- student disciple – a student discipline – teaching; instruction, field of learning disciplinary – pertaining to correction, ordered control, or teaching disciplinarian – one who enforces order

#4

inter-between interstate- between states interaction - action between two people or things intermission - a time between two periods of activity, pause intercept - take or seize on the way from one place to another interlude - something filling the time between two things interact- to connect with or live in close relation with each other interactive- of or pertaining to a two-way system (between) communications, usually by means of a television or computer intercede- to attempt to reconcile differences between two people or groups; to come between intercom- an internal telephone system for communicating within a building, an aircraft, etc. Short for intercommunications interfere- to come in the middle of , as one thing with another interim- to fill up time between two things bio-life, living things biopsy - the surgical removal of cells or tissue from a living body for examination and diagnosis biology - the scientific study of living organisms biosphere - the region on and around earth that can support life (atmosphere, land, water) biodegradable - capable of being broken down by the action of bacteria or other organisms biography - a written account of a person's life biome - a major ecological community, extending over a large area and usually characterized by a dominant vegetation